AUDITION NOTICE
Knox College Department of Theatre seeks actors for the production of …

THE NETHER
by Jennifer Haley

Winner of the 2012 Susan Smith Blackburn Prize, The Nether explores the psychological and ethical consequences of virtual simulations as they collide with real life. Set in the not-so-distant future, this mind-numbing detective drama alternates between interrogation room reality and the darker side of the internet in order to raise questions about identity, technology, illicit fantasies, second life morality, and personal privacy.

Audition Date / Location / Time:
• Date: Tuesday, September 13, 2016
• Where: Harbach Theatre, CFA
• Time: 6:30 – 10:00pm
  ▪ All actors should plan to arrive at 6:30pm and stay until the process is complete

Preparation:
• Theatre majors should plan to perform a 2-minute monologue, preferably from a contemporary play in the style of Realism.
• Non-theatre majors may choose to either: (A) present a 2-minute monologue, or (B) perform a cold reading (made available upon request at the time of the audition).
• No previous acting experience is necessary. All are welcome to audition.

Roles:
SIMS/PAPA – a successful businessman
MORRIS – a young female detective
DOYLE – a middle-aged science teacher
WOODNUT – a guest
IRIS – a girl

Please Note:
• Actors must be available to rehearse weeknights from 7-10 p.m., and on occasional Saturdays.
• This play presents themes that some people may find disturbing. Actors should refrain from auditioning for this show if they are uncomfortable with discussions of online sex fantasies, pedophilia, and murder.

Performance Dates:
November 2 – 5, 2016
Harbach Theatre

If you require further information, please contact the director Jeff Grace (jgrace@knox.edu) or the Stage Managers - Olivia Lemke (omlemke@knox.edu) & Caroline Foulk (cmfoulk@knox.edu)